To the Clerk of the Court:

The following is an account of my assault:

On January 13, 2019, at 3:00pm, I was called to get my insulin shot at the infirmary. Deputy Barber came to get me, cuffed me and escorted me out. Once at the infirmary, the deputy ordered me to wait until the nurse was ready for me. Not far from where I was, there were a couple of deputies handling another inmate. Suddenly, I heard a commotion, and when I turned around, that inmate was already in front of me, beating my face and yelling, "Stupid faggot!" I fell to the ground with all my weight on my right side (and my hands still cuffed behind me), hurting my wrists, arm, waist and leg.

After two deputies pulled me up off the floor, they put me inside the infirmary. I was in great pain, half my body throbbing. What hurt the most was my right arm, where, just a few months before, I had surgery to implant a stent after already having a heart attack. The pain lasted a long time.

Sincerely, Rene Solis
